

Kyiv is growing rapidly and is already feeling the lack of creative infrastructure that would match the calibre and pace of one of the largest cities of Central & Eastern Europe.

In a dense urban landscape, there is no space for large business communication platforms or modern facilities for family leisure and youth activities. Therefore, following the experience of other European cities that had similar growth rates, Kyiv business and entertainment are now getting out of the city to places that have plenty of space, lots of clean air and no limits.

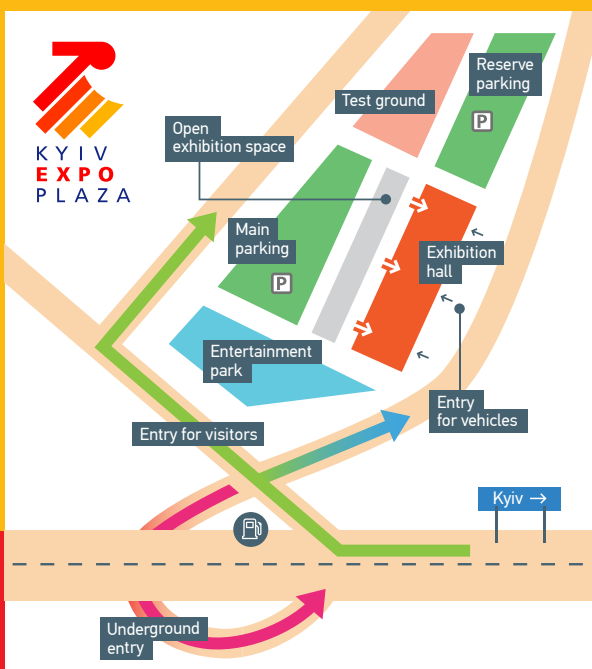

A large out-of-town center of innovation and entertainment is created near the Berezivka settlement on Zhytomyr M06 highway, the main road connecting Kyiv to Europe. In the future it will include an exhibition center, a family leisure and outdoor amusement center, a festival area and a theme park, with a prospect of an innovation park and a congress center being added.

KyivExpoPlaza exhibition venue, Berezivka settlement, 1, Amsterdamska st., lays the foundation of a new large complex. A permanent shuttle bus route will provide an easy 20-minute commute from the nearest metro station — Zhytomyrska (time on the road is 20 minutes), while a large parking area and light traffic, against the main car flow, are great advantages for drivers. Also a new Big Ring Road will be constructed in proximity soon.
